

Field Day Program Planned At Headland

A field day program planned especially for field crop producers in Alabama's Wiregrass region will be held August 23, beginning at 9 a.m. at Auburn University's Wiregrass Substation in Headland, J.G. Starling, superintendent, has announced.

Farmers attending the sessions will be given an update of Alabama Agricultural Experiment Station research aimed at improving field crop production. In addition, a tour of research plots at the substation, giving farmers a first-hand look at research results, and a question-and-answer session will be included.

After introductions by Dr.

William W. Curtis Jr., district agent-ANR, Alabama Cooperative Extension Service, the program will feature results of soybean and corn variety testing; disease control in soybeans and peanuts; seed treatment testing; nematode control in peanuts; tillage methods with wheat, grain sorghum, soybeans, and no-till peanuts; peanut economics; recommended vs. reduced inputs; and controlling insects of peanuts.

Covering these topics will be Dr. Wiley Johnson, Darrell Williams and Dr. Joe Touchton, Department of Agronomy and Soils; Mark Crawford, Dr. John Weet, Gary Hancock, Dr. R. Rodriguez-Kabana and Glenn Robinson, Department of Botany, Plant Pathology and Microbiology; Dr. N.R. Martin, Department of Agricultural Economics and Rural Sociology; Dr. T.P. Mack, Department of Zoology-Entomology; and J.G. Starling and Henry Ivey of the Substation.

Countries involved in the field day include Barbours, Bullock, Coffee, Covington, Crenshaw, Dale, Geneva, Henry, Houston, Pike and Russell.

Starting will preside over the sessions, which are open to all persons regardless of race, color, sex or national origin.

Brainstorms

By FERRIN COX

We read that the Tax Foundation estimated that total state and local taxes in 1983 will exceed 300 billion! That is a lot of money. In fact we can't really imagine how we could spend that much money. After a few million we would have our payments a month or so ahead. New cars, clothes, toys for adults and children; given our church all it could spend any time soon; and in general wouldn't know what to do with the other 299 billion-plus.

We read that the smoking of cigarettes is dropping across the U.S. The experts credit concern over health and the ever-increasing cost as reasons for this drop. Another bunch of experts reports that more teenage girls than boys are taking up the habit. We never did take up that habit, but did smoke a pipe for many years. Once we realized it was a habit we couldn't do without, the idea was an insult to our pride, we quit and now rarely get the urge to pick up our old pipe. We don't go around preaching against smoking, but find ourselves asking smokers to please dispose of their cigarette before we make a picture. Even this isn't a drive against the cancer sticks - it just looks tacky to have a posed picture with cigarettes sticking out between the fingers.

It was suggested last week (hopefully in jest) that I run for city council. The statement caught me off guard, as that is the farthest thing from my mind. My answers were true and included statements about estimating my friends rather than counting them... not possible to serve and properly carry out city activities... not being a good "committee person", etc. We failed to mention one of the most frightening reasons to us is that there is a possibility, however slim, that I might win!

One day last week Yours Truly received a clipping from another newspaper. It was a cartoon of two fishermen, one with his mouth open and only the words, "This is the spot I was telling you about." The picture showed some fish jumping into a fisherman's creel (that is a fish basket to us country boys) and his friend was looking on with a big smile. We don't know which of our friends sent this little note, but we are ready and willing to join them in this special "spot."

My sons and I came up with some gold fish that weighed over four pounds apiece last Friday. We showed them to a few folks who could verify the story if put on the spot, but we went one better than that for those who don't believe any fish story they hear. After a few phone calls we found Mrs. Frances Prior willing to take two and put them into her fish tank at Elba High School. Before we got them to her one (the prettiest one) had died; but the other is reportedly swimming around that 20-gallon tank, eating any food thrown into the tank, and is very happy.

It is tragic that the Auburn football player died last Friday following workouts in the hot sun. The weather is hot and we all need to watch ourselves and not exceed our limits. We don't mean to belittle the memory of a fine football player at Auburn, nor any other who have died, but the suggestions that football be banned because of these deaths is crazy! We could follow that thought to absurdity and we would all refuse to go to bed because the vast majority of people die in bed. We - let's play, work and enjoy life, but be mindful of the limits on the human body.

We have fielded a number of questions recently on "why no activity of the Pea River hydro dam?" Well it is all tied up in the federal red tape. A hearing that was expected to be formal with no excitement, suddenly changed when the regulatory commission had an application from a second firm promising to do a better job than Summit Industries. Now the feds have scheduled a hearing in October to determine the direction to take. Meanwhile -- we sit and wait.

Tuesday we saw a city trash truck hauling a mess away from a remodeling site. This always upsets us that the taxpayers are paying and someone else gets the profits. It didn't help any at all to know that Mayor Bob English was the contractor. We called him immediately with this complaint and the fact it was falling off the truck onto the streets. He promptly sent his employees to clean up the streets and explained to us the city policy with all contractors. It is in writing in the city ordinances that this will be done, and the individual or company will be charged for the labor and equipment. English explained that the city officers to park a truck on public property; the contractor may load his trash as he takes it from the house; the city will haul it to the dump and charge by the hour. He assured us bills are sent to all and payments are made in most cases. We feel better after bringing the matter up than we have in months over this matter.

Conservation Commissioner John Hodnett was in hot water this week after criticizing the political appointment of an assistant commissioner to his department. He has reportedly said he didn't need "that boy", 24-year-old funeral home director Kenny Nichols; but later said he had been misunderstood. We don't know why he said he had been misunderstood, but since it was a political appointment we feel the big wheels in state government wanted the man to have the job and explained the facts of life to the commissioner. He apparently got the message.

SOUTH ALABAMA CENTRAL ALABAMA REGIONAL COUNCIL ON ALCOHOLISM

In the previous article, it was depicted how the alcoholic arrives at the chronic phase of alcoholism. This is the bottom. It is too late for him to control or modify his drinking. He is completely powerless over alcohol and his life is completely unmanageable. He cannot go on much longer. There is physical deterioration and he is susceptible to other diseases and alcoholic complications such as gastritis, delirium tremens, and liver dysfunction. He has a complete breakdown in his social relationship with his family and others. There is considerable mental deterioration and confusion.

His binges become longer and more frequent. Now he drinks for several days, completely helpless. There is utter disregard for family, job, everything. The binge may leave him a shaking, frightened, guilt-ridden condition. "Never again," he promises. But it happens again, and again, and again. There is a complete breakdown of his ethics and morals. Until now, he may have been able to maintain some semblance of ethics. At this point, there is a complete ethical breakdown. He is so dependent on alcohol that he will lie, borrow or steal in order to maintain his supply of alcohol.

He becomes paralytic. At this point the person with alcoholism feels that everyone is watching him, talking about him, even plotting to have him committed to some institution. He is a victim of circumstances over which he feels he has no control. Unreasonable resentment.

Grand Opening At Holland Seafoods, Inc.

Seafood lovers in the Elba area will now be able to enjoy the taste of all types of fresh seafood caught daily from the Gulf!

Holland Seafood Inc., located in the old Riverside Cafe location just across the Pea River bridge on Hwy. 84 West, held its "Grand Opening" on Friday, August 19, with ribbon cutting ceremony.

The new business is owned and operated by Hank and Bena Holland, and is open from 9 a.m. until dark on Monday thru Saturday and from 1 p.m. until dark on Sunday.

A wide variety of seafood is available to the public, including mullet, flounder, white snapper, red snapper, catfish, h. liner, scallops, shrimp (4 sizes), grouper, crab claws and frog legs. The seafood is caught daily by boat captains on the Gulf and is picked up at Southport, FL, Apalachicola, FL, Gulfport, Ms. and Pass Christian, Mississippi.

"The people of Elba are really supporting us," said Mr. Holland, who was born and raised in Elba, "and I think they want us. We are happy here and will give everybody the best in seafood at good prices."

POOR RALLY MEANS MORE CORRECTION

The key to the market's mini-advance this past week has been the strength in the energy group and selected metals.

This narrow strength lifted the weighted Dow Industrials a bit but did little to improve the day's disappointing breadth and momentum of the rally.

Also, although quickly working off the deep overvalued condition of the stock market, investors have little to show for the reflex bounce. The oil and oil service stocks benefited from the fact that they have been in of favor for several years and are underowned plus a big push from the "saber rattling" in the Middle East. But, in our opinion, the strength in this group and the metals, both hard assets, also reflects renewed interest in inflation hedges and that is not good for the market as a whole.

Beneficiaries of this inflation topped out in early May and if they do not regain a leadership position soon our concern about the intermediate term trend for the market would increase. If anticipation of renewed inflation becomes increasingly prevalent, interest rates could rise to a level which would both abort the economic recovery and put bonds at levels which would create severe competition for stocks. That, of course, is the Bears' big pitch and we share the concern but rate it a low probability. Most economic evidence points toward reduced inflation and a livable level of interest rates and we are sticking with that trend.

Gross National Product for the second quarter was the strongest rate in 18 years and, after tax, corporate profits leaped 14.7 percent. The fact that they have been in of favor for several years and are underowned plus a big push from the "saber rattling" in the Middle East. But, in our opinion, the strength in this group and

Brunson - Martin Wedding

Miss Betsy Brunson, daughter of Mrs. William Lister Brunson and the late Mr. William Lister Brunson, and Mr. James Douglas Martin Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James Douglas Martin, were united in holy matrimony on Saturday, the sixth of August, at seven o'clock in the evening at the Elba Church of Christ. Mr. Terry Gunnells performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Joe Donaldson, pianist of Enterprise, presented a repertoire of musical numbers, including "Canon in D" by Pachelbel; "Prelude in C" by Bach; "Prelude in C Minor" by Chopin; "Moonlight Sonata, 1st Movement" by Beethoven; "Clair de Lune" by Debussy; "Largo" by Handel.

For the processional Mrs. Donaldson chose "Trumpet Tune" by Purcell and the traditional "Bridal March" by Wagner. "Wedding March" by Mendelssohn and Psalm XVIII by Marcello were used for the recessional. Mrs. Emmett Brunson, cousin of the bride, of Enterprise, sang "Entreat Me Not to Leave You," "All the Things You Are," and "Wedding Prayer."

Central feature of the sanctuary decorations was a large candle tree of ivory candles, which was centered over the baptismal pool. A mammoth arrangement of chrysanthemums, full mums, gladioli and agapanthus (Lily-of-the-Nile) banked the base of the candle tree.

Spiral candles flanked the immediate altar area, and a pair of candle trees marked the outer edges of the altar. A double prayer bench placed in the center was tied with candlelight ribbons. The arches of the side walls were centered with Boston ferns and candlelight wicker wedding bells. Few markers were of ivory ribbon centered with ivory roses and fern foliage.

The bride entered the sanctuary on the arm of her brother, William Lister Brunson Jr. She wore a gown of ivory tulle and French alencon lace from the Couture of Coquette. The Leg-O-Mutton sleeves had delicate traceries of lace floating down to a point over the hand. The waist dropped, Basque style, to a point in front and back. The long skirt, while fully flared, gathered softly at the waist and extended into a chapel-length train. The skirt and train were unadorned.

The bride's cathedral veil, created by her aunt, Mrs. Jack Brunson, was of French illusion and decorated with delicate satin rosebuds containing centers of clustered pearl-edges stamen and ropes of pearl Lashover overlays of textured alencon lace graced the lower portions of the veil which was further adorned with floating lace appliques. The bride carried cascading bouquet of silk roses, touched with calla lilies, lily-of-the-valley, Eucharistia daisies and heather.

She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Tom Maddox, as matron of honor, and Miss Melissa Martin, sister of the groom, as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. William Lister Brunson Jr.,

MRS. MAKIN

Mrs. Sam DeVane, Birmingham; Mrs. Kenneth Calhoun, New Brockton; Miss Lisa Smith; Miss Patricia Rogers, Atlanta; and Miss Carol Holt, Junior bridesmaids were cousins of the bride, Miss Christa Clark of Fairhope and Miss Grayson Brunson of Enterprise. Their identical gowns of ivory embroidered satin were deeply gathered at the waist and fashioned with full elbow-length sleeves. A contrasting cummerbund of the same material in cobalt blue gently hugged the waist. The bridesmaids carried cascading bouquets similar to the bride's, but encircled by plumose fern.

Flower petals were strewn by Anna Clair and Justin Maddox, twin niece and nephew of the bride. They were coordinating suits of blue and ecru, also created by Mrs. Jack Brunson.

Mr. Martin was attended by his father, Mr. James Douglas Martin Sr., as best man. Groomsmen were Eddy Vaughan, Mike Bullard, Cayenne Bullard, Michael Henne, Butler, Al. Jim Reynolds, Carrollton, Georgia; David Bray, Port St. Joe, Florida; Fred Clark and Perry Fuller.

Master Leon Augustus Boyd V was ringbearer. He wore white and carried an ecru and blue French handsewn pillow, made by the bride for the occasion.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Brunson wore a gown of lilac silk chiffon styled with high neckline and long sheer sleeves. Mrs. Martin wore a gown of mauve chiffon, fashioned with a scoop neck and long

The groom's table, set on the sun porch, covered with a brown floor-length skirt and overlaid with ecru hand-crocheted cloth, was centered with a chocolate cake topped with fresh fruit which cascaded gracefully onto the table.

Completing the decor of the groom's table was a five-branched brass candelabrum and trays of fresh fruit and cheese straws. A brass punch fountain was also on the sun porch.

The groom's cake was served by Mrs. Ben Helms of Enterprise and Mrs. Ted Vaughan, both aunts of the groom.

In the dining room a silver punch service and branched candelabra were placed on the buffet. The round dining table was covered with ivory chintilly lace over Qiana and centered with a massive arrangement of gladioli, full mums and greenery. Silver trays held dainty refreshments. Serving in various areas were Mrs. James E. Ham Jr., Mrs. Byron Bruce, Mrs.

Weldon Bozeman, Mrs. Jerry Nielsen of Fairhope; Miss Tina Lee, Miss Teri Young; Mrs. Steve Walker of Troy, and Miss Charlotte Rogers of Gantt. Passing rice bags were Lucy, Chuck and Amy Arnold of Ozark. The couple resided in the home of Mrs. V.D. McCreary and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cooper.

The couple's wedding trip included places of interest in Tennessee. They will make their home in Dothan.

Rehearsal Party
The groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Doug Martin Sr., hosted the rehearsal dinner at the fellowship hall of the Methodist Church. Assisting were Mrs. Charles Hayes, Mrs. Mark Holt, Mrs. Fred Smith Jr., Mrs. Paul King, Mrs. Paul Morrow, Mrs. Bob English, Mrs. Jack Padgett and Mrs. Philip Scarborough.

Groom's Luncheon
The groom's luncheon was held in the home of Mrs. Pete Dorsey. Assisting her were Mrs. Paul Morrow, Mrs. Arlan Brown, Mrs. Fred Smith Jr., Mrs. Kimmy Dorsey and Mrs. Tim Bradshaw.

Bride's Luncheon
The bridesmaids luncheon was held in the home of Mrs. Did English with Mrs. Kenneth Arnold and Mrs. Al English serving as co-hostesses.

The bride's veil of nylon netting with lace appliques and scattered seed pearls trimmed in scalloped lace, fell from the wreath-shaped headpiece of pink and burgundy rosebuds and baby's breath. To complete her picture appearance, the bride carried a beautiful bouquet of pink and burgundy roses, rosebuds, tiger lilies, apple blossoms, carnations and baby's breath with ivory satin streamers with love knots holding apple blossoms. Completing the bouquet was a pearl heart placed in the center.

The bride carried out the tradition of something old and borrowed by wearing a string of pearls that belonged to her sister-in-law. Something blue was the blue garter which was hand-made especially for her. Something new was her wedding gown.

Mrs. Fran Shoap, sister of the bride, from Jacksonville, Florida, served as matron of honor. She wore a formal gown of pink with a ruffled cape of pink organza which accented the bodice. She carried an ivory fan with

The groom's table was covered with a white lace cloth. In the center a large crystal punch bowl held delicious pink bridal punch. Punch was served by Mrs. Dean Nelson of Elba and Miss Pearl Cornthers of Cllo, both friends of the bride.

Miss Horton Weds Mr. Farris

The wedding vows of Miss Ann Horton and Mr. Max Farris were solemnized Friday evening, August 5, at seven o'clock in the Basin Baptist Church. The Rev. Alan Moore of Jackson Gap, Alabama, officiated in the impressive double-ring ceremony.

The bride's parents are Mrs. Virginia Horton of Enterprise and Mr. Irby Horton of New Brockton. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Farris of Basin.

In the vestibule of the church a table covered with white lace cloth held a beautiful bride's book, and guests were invited to register with a pink plumed pen. Mrs. Sandra Horton, sister-in-law of the bride, presided at the registry table. Each guest was given a scroll encircled with a wedding band containing a message from the bride and groom on their wedding day.

Vows were exchanged before the altar. The sanctuary was enhanced by the pale glow of candlelight from a double ring candelabra with long white burning tapers accented with greenery and a huge pink ribbon. On each side of this was placed a floral arrangement of silk roses, carnations, mums, poppies and baby's breath in the wedding colors of pink and burgundy. Pots of Boston ferns completed the background arrangements.

The single prayer bench, which was adorned with bows of pink ribbon and white doves, was placed in the center of the altar. Large brass candle trees with greenery graced the main floor, and Boston ferns stood on each side of the step where the groom took the arm of his bride up to the altar.

Silks of the stained-glass windows held burning tapers entwined in ivy. Candles were lighted by Lee Horton, brother of the bride, and Mike Farris, brother of the groom, who also served as ushers.

Family brews were marked with pink and burgundy flowers with greenery, tied with burgundy satin ribbons.

A lovely selection of pre-nuptial music was rendered by Mrs. Joann Moore of Jackson Gap. Mr. Mary Coale, brother-in-law of the groom, sang "O Perfect Love" before the mothers were seated. Mr. Coale and Mrs. Dinna Carney of Ito sang "The Rose." And after the exchange of vows, Mr. Coale sang "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, radiantly lovely, entered the church on the arm of her brother, Bobby Horton. She wore an exquisite original gown designed by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Linda Farris. The candlelight re-embroidered lace gown with a white silk train and a white silk skirt. The bodice was accented with a deep ruffle edged in scalloped lace. The full skirt fell from the high-waisted bodice to floor-length and swept into a chapel-length train encircling the hemline.

The bride's veil of nylon netting with lace appliques and scattered seed pearls trimmed in scalloped lace, fell from the wreath-shaped headpiece of pink and burgundy rosebuds and baby's breath. a mixture of pink and burgundy flowers with greenery and ivory streamers.

Little Miss Denise Farris, niece of the groom, served as flower girl. She wore a floor-length dress of pink organza with ruffles, accented with burgundy ribbons at the hemline. She carried a white wicker basket with long bows and streamers, and dropped rose petals as she entered the sanctuary.

The groom was attired in a charcoal gray cutaway tuxedo. His boutonniere was of silk paradise burgundy rosebuds nestled in baby's breath.

James Farris served his son as best man, and wore an identical tuxedo with a pink rosebud.

Master Scotty Horton of Enterprise served as ringbearer. He carried a candlelight satin pillow with overlay of reembodyered lace adorned with seed pearls, edged with lace and topped with ivory satin ties. He was attired similarly to the groom, with a burgundy rosebud boutonniere.

Mrs. Horton, mother of the bride, entered the sanctuary on the arm of her son, Lee Horton. She wore a formal gown of blue chiffon overlay with long chiffon sleeves and a bow at the neckline. A large white silk orchid completed her attire.

Mrs. Farris chose for her son's wedding a formal gown of mauve Qiana knit. The gown featured a crystal pleated skirt and lace bodice with matching jacket. Her corsage was a white silk orchid.

The delicious dinner consisted of hamburger steak and green beans, congealed pink salad and home-made rolls. Fresh peach pie, which had been made by Peggy Ham, completed the meal.

Approximately 30 friends and members of the wedding party were served.

Miscellaneous Shower
Miss Ann Horton, bride-elect of Max Farris, was honored with a miscellaneous shower July 30 from 3-5 in the home of Mrs. Linda Farris.

Mrs. Farris greeted the guests as they arrived and invited them to register in the bride's book. The beautifully bound bride's book rested on a table covered with a white lace cloth. A basket of pink and burgundy silk flowers adorned the table. Guests registered with a pretty pink feather pen.

Guests served themselves from a refreshment table covered with a white lace cloth.

Centerpiece for the table was a crystal punch bowl banked with greenery and pink carnation. Individual cakes, mints, nuts and silver balls were served. Hostesses were Mrs. Peggy Ham, Mrs. Betty Sue Boutwell, Mrs. Jean Maudlin, Mrs. Christine Leonard, Mrs. Franie Wyroslick, Mrs. Deborah Coale and Mrs. Linda Farris.

The bride-elect was beautifully attired in a gray linen skirt and burgundy blouse, with a white carnation corsage, gift from the hostesses.

THE PRESSBOX

By, Ricky Mularz Editor

Well, the high school football season kicks off tonight, and that means the next 15 weeks are booked solid. It's a busy time of the year, but one I look forward to. See ya at a game!!

MORE THAN A FEW CHANGES IN '83

There are always a lot of changes from one football season to another, and this year there seems to be more than usual. Here are a few worth noting:

***At Elba High the Tigers will be wearing black helmets and have a new assistant coach in ex-Kinston head man Rick Rainer.

***At Kinston they have a new head coach in Ronnie Cortrell; a whole new staff, a freshly painted field house and concession building, and they've cut down the hill behind the bleachers.

***At Zion Chapel the Rebels will be led by new coach John Frank Hudson and new assistant Tom Moates (a veteran pair of coaches), and the Rebels look like winners.

***And, at New Brockton, the "Gamecock Hilton" (a new field house) is open - just another example of the Gamecock pride the folks there have in their program.

Former Elba coach Mac Champion is now head coach at U.M.S., an exclusive prep school in Mobile. Coach Champion was at 4A Mary Montgomery last season, but has now moved to "greener" pastures. Leon Atkins, another former Elba coach, is now the head coach at a junior college in Mississippi. Coach Atkins was at Brundidge a couple of years ago, so it's definitely a step-up to join the football-happy junior college ranks over in Mississippi.

New coaches on the Elba schedule include Bobby Lee at Troy and Sam Williams at Ashford.

Yep -- things change in football all the time!

TIGERS FACE RUGGED OPENER

If you like to see top quality, hard-hitting high school football, come to tomorrow (Friday) night's Elba-Brundidge battle. Brundidge is loaded with talent and talking "state," while the Tigers are expecting big things and are also hunting for a playoff berth. Something has to give Friday night, so be there cheering for the Tigers!

I know a lot of people can't believe Brundidge is a playoff contender, but I can assure you the Bulldogs are a team to be reckoned with. The Dogs had 68 boys out in the spring, including 16 returning starters from the team that defeated Elba last season. Brundidge has one of the top players in the state in Steve Wilson, a speedster, and boasts two veteran backs in James Boyd and Willie Powell. The line is strong, as is evident by Darryl Lee, a 277-pound tackle, and the folks up in Pike County can't wait to get started. It's going to be a toughie!

ELBA JUNIOR TIGERS GETTING READY

Coach Mickey McCollough's Elba Junior High Tigers are hard at work getting ready for their season opener against Enterprise Junior High. The Junior Tigers were running the levee in early practices and are beginning to tune-up for their toughest schedule ever.

The Junior Tigers work as hard as anyone and deserve your support, so make plans to see a couple of games.

DON'T FORGET TO BUY A PROGRAM

When you go to the Elba game Friday night, don't forget to buy a program from an Elba Athletic Club member. The club spent a lot of time selling the ads, putting the program together and getting all the pictures made, so help the club and buy a program.

By the way, if you think $1.00 is too much to pay, please stop and think again! This year's program cost approximately $2.70 apiece to have printed, so it's a bargain.

YE OLE POLISH PROGNOSTICATOR

Ye ole Polish Prognosticator returns for another season of predictions, with hopes of improving on last year's record of 78 percent correct. The first couple of weeks are always the toughest, and this week my crystal ball overheated and cooked out. Oh well, let's get started . . .

ELBA VS. BRUNDIDGE

The Tigers are expecting big things in '83, making the opener mighty important. Brundidge will come to town looking for a win, making this one a toss-up. This one will go down to the wire.

Elba 16 - Brundidge 14

KINSTON VS. ZION CHAPEL

The Bulldogs have defeated the Rebels two straight years, but both teams have new coaches and Zion Chapel seems to have the edge in experience. Another good one to watch.

Zion Chapel 20 - Kinston 12

NEW BROCKTON VS. FLORALA

The Gamecocks open on the road against a traditional 2A powerhouse. Florida has more tradition, more talent and will be playing at home, but I've got a funny feeling!

New Brockton 14 - Florida 8

ENTERPRISE VS. JESS LANIER

The Wildcats are without a doubt the top team in the state, year-in and year-out, and this year should be no different. Look for a solid Enterprise victory!

Elba Tigers Open Season Friday Night
Against Highly Touted Brundidge

The Elba Tigers will open their 1983 football season tomorrow (Friday) night when they host the Brundidge Bulldogs, at Miller Memorial Stadium.

Elba is coming off a disappointing 4-5 season and would like nothing better than to average last season's 14-10 loss to the Bulldogs. However, it won't be easy, as Brundidge is expecting its best team in years and is looking for a trip to the state playoffs.

"We look for Brundidge to be real strong," stated Elba's Coach Mack Wood. "They've got most of their offensive and defensive players back from last year, and most of their good players. Brundidge is going to be tough."

"Last season," said Wood, "they ran straight at us and mixed it up with quick pitches and quick passes to the tight-end. We expect them to have a balanced attack Friday night with a lot of team work and work on the kicking game. We've got to get sharp and get ready to play. It will take a good week to practice to get ready."

Zion Chapel &amp; Kinston To Meet In "Game Of The Week"

The high school football season kicks off across the state this week, but nowhere will the enthusiasm be higher or will the hitting be harder than at Zion Chapel, where the Zion Chapel Rebels host the Kinston Bulldogs in the Elba Clipper's "Game of the Week."

The Rebels, coming off a 3-7 record, will be led by new coach John Frank Hudson, while the Bulldogs, coming off two straight 1-9 seasons, is under the direction of rookie coach Ronnie Cortrell. "We're a week behind schedule because we didn't know we'd be playing on Aug. 26 until a couple of weeks ago," said Zion Chapel's Coach John Frank Hudson. "We've been working on the basics of the game-blocking and tackling, and started at square one. The players have a good attitude and have tried hard to adjust to my style."

"Offensively," stated Hudson, "we will keep it simple and try not to beat ourselves. We won't know what to expect in the opening game, but we do know Kinston will come to play! Our biggest problem in the opening game, and all season, will be a lack of depth. We only have 24 players out and of them only about 14 can do a lot of playing. The key to our success will be to get enough players to learn a position so nobody will have to play 48 minutes. On defense we haven't done a lot of work yet, but the defense is always ahead of the offense early in the year anyway. We will run multiple defenses and adjust to stop our opponents bread and butter. In the first game you're defense must prepare for anything and everything and be disciplined enough to stay in its position."

"It's going to be a tough game and a tough season, with no more players than we've got," said Coach Hudson. "But we'll show-up and give it all we've got."

"We're scared to death," said Kinston's Coach Ronnie Cortrell when asked about Zion Chapel. "Zion Chapel has good athletes and an outstanding coach and it will be a mighty tough opener. Offensively, we can't make any mistakes! Our defense is not big, so it can't stay on the field all night. We will have to establish our running game and play on tough up front in the line. Over on defense we'll have to be mentally alert, know our assignments and adjust to whatever they do. Zion Chapel has the top quarterback in the area, one who can both throw and run the option. He will challenge our defense."

"If we hope to pull off a win," added Cortrell, "We'll have to play a solid game on both sides of the ball. On offense we'll have to throw when we want to, not when we have to, and do a good job running the option. Our defense can bend, but not break and we must keep their quarterback under control. The players are excited and their attitudes are good, so the rest we'll just have to wait and see."

The Blue Jays, coached by Joey Holley, consisted of Lance McCollough, Cory Driggers, Justin Kyser, Brad Stokes, Jack Windham, Purnell Smith, Charlie Hudson, Chris Parrish, Kimbo Nicholson, Jake Stokes, Bo Boyd, Kevin Lawford, Charles Bozeman and Ben Fleming.

The Cubs, coached by Raneell Moore, included Allen Robinson, Brett Kimbo, Kevin Moore, Hunter Hudson, Rex Oggs, David Nunn, Joe Reeves, Daniel Bowden, Jeremy Reeves, Chris Jordan, Don Reeves, Mark Moseley and Erik Simmons.

Zion Chapel Rebels Are Excited About Football Fortunes For '83

ZION CHAPEL REBELS

Winning Spirit Catching On With Kinston

A flat prediction: the Kinston Bulldogs are going to win more than one game for the first time since 1980. The Bulldogs schedule is tough, no doubt, but out of 11 chances Kinston seems certain to hit paydirt at least twice!

Don't get the idea this is a world-beating sort of team or that new coach Ronnie Cottrell will perform any miracles. In truth, it's unlikely the Dogs will escape the area cellar. But, Coach Cottrell has brought a winning spirit into town and if that spirit can catch on, watch out.

The best player in the Kinston camp is without a doubt Ronald Thorn, a 6-3, 219-pound senior who plays both fullback and linebacker. Thorn, an all-State selection as a junior, has rushed for over 1,000 yards and made almost 300 tackles in the past two seasons, and Bulldog fans are anxious to see what he will do for an encore.

The Kinston offense was ineffective last year, as the 19 record would lead you to believe, but in looking down the depth chart it appears certain this year's club will put plenty of points on the board. Sophomores Paul Folarin (140) and Glen Barnes (135) will have to mature in a hurry at quarterback if the offense is to click; however, the presence of two veteran backs in Ronald Thorn (219) and Alvin Henderson (149) will help the youngsters gain confidence. While Thorn relies on brute force, Henderson relies on tremendous quickness and speed, making him a constant threat to go all the way! Leroy Barron (169) and Tony Daugherty (127) will serve as back-ups, giving the Dogs a good stable of backs.

The Kinston passing game will not enjoy the success of year's past, but the Dogs will go to the air-ways and when they do the pigskin will be aimed at a corp of receivers including Hugh Helms (146), David Ezell (142), Chuck Roberts (135) and Marty Jones (119). The receivers are light, but quick, and all have good hands.

The offensive-line should be much improved as three seniors and a junior return to do battle in the trenches. Nathan Edwards (181) and Matthew Danley (229) will hold down the tackle spots, while Danny Bedsole (138) and Mark Ward (165) will man the guard positions alongside sophomore center Barron Cain (129). Giving the Bulldogs depth in the line will be Frank Boutwell (228) and John Pierce (168), Mi-

Edwards (181) and Mark Ward (165) should combine to give the Dogs plenty of muscles up front. Speed will be abundant in the secondary with players like Alvin Henderson (149), Marty Jones (119) and Hugh Helms (146) leading the way, giving the entire Kinston defense a look of stability.

Punter David Ezell (142) and Kicker Ronald Thorn (219) round out the Bulldog attack, which has Dog fans barking with optimism. Kinston plays an 11-game schedule that includes such powers as Arton, Samson, Louisville, Brantley, G.W. Long, and New Brockton, so, it is evident, injuries and luck must play big parts if wins are to come very often.

River Raft Race Sept. 3

As the song says, "Old Man River, he don't do nothing, he just keeps rolling along." Competitors in Selma's Alabama River Raft Race hope that the river will do just that Sept. 3.

The race will begin at noon at the Edmund Pettus bridge in downtown Selma and end five miles down the river at Little Miami. The New South Outlaw Band will provide musical entertainment after the race. First, second and third place winners will receive trophies in three categories: canoes, homemade rafts and most original homemade rafts. Brian Hughes, raft race chairman, urged all participants to pre-register by requesting an entry form from the Selma/Dallas County Chamber of Commerce, P.O. Drawer D, Selma, AL 36702.

The optimism inherent in any coaching change is sweeping across a portion of north Coffee County. But the Rebel fans are excited for more than one reason. Not only is new coach John Frank Hudson the same coach that led Zion Chapel to the state playoffs twice in the past, he's also a gritty, hardnosed competitor who brings out the best in those who follow. It was a bumpy outing for the Rebels last season, as their 3-7 record indicates, and while the playoffs may not be in the picture in '83, the going should be quite a bit smoother.

Coach Hudson, as assistant at Elba High since 1977, is making his third stop at Zion Chapel, having been at the Rebels' helm from 1967-71 and 1973-76. His '74 squad went 13-1 and finished second in the state, a feat Rebel fans remember and dream of again!

The Rebels seem to have some quality players, but not enough players to let the starters rest. So it could come down to conditioning, desire, and luck with injuries.

Zion Chapel's offense appears to be solid, and capable of putting points on the board from anywhere on the field. Heading the list of returnees is Michael Hill, a two-year starter at quarterback who is a crafty runner with a good head. All-County running back Tony Shiver, a bruising 200-pounder, will give the Rebels plenty of inside punch, while Doyle Smart, Chris Miley, and Tony Maddox all have good speed and should give the offense depth in the backfield. The line appears as good as any in 1A ball, with a combination of strength and experience. Bobby Hill and Chip Kelley will anchor down the end positions, Craig Flowers will be the center, flanked by two possible All-State linemen in Mark Storey and Danny Parker. Tommy Gentry and Bobby Flowers will also see action at guard, while Keith Pittman and Billy Brunson have locked down the tackle spots. The Rebel offense is solid up front and filled with veterans in the backfield making it a challenge to all opponents to stop.

The defense has a lot of familiar names, but unless fatigue sets in it could be just as strong as the offense. The front six will be tough to budge, as Darren Grant and Tommy Gentry will hold down the ends, with Billy Brunson and Keith Pittman at tackles, and Mark Storey and Danny Parker at guard. All-County linebacker Craig Flowers will be back hunting down opposing runners and will be joined by either Tony Shiver or Bobby Flowers. In the secondary, the Rebels also appear to be solid, with Bobby Hill, Chris Miley, Tony Maddox, and Billy Clements all scheduled to get in plenty of playing time. The Rebel defense like the offense, appears to be in good hands.

With only 24 players on the squad, the Rebels must be lucky and in top condition, but don't be surprised if the wins come far more often in '83.

Success In '82 Should Spark Gamecocks

Coach Leavy Boutwell figures the 1982 Gamecocks accomplished one thing that should be a confidence springboard for 1983: "We needed to go out and beat teams people didn't think we could beat." New Brockton went out and beat teams people didn't think we could beat. "New Brockton went out and beat teams people didn't think we could beat."

The line has long been a trademark of Gamecock football and the 1983 edition should be as good as ever. Tackle Scotty Lee (200), guard Kelley Tindol (190) and tight-end Kenneth Nolan (180) will anchor the line, and will get plenty of help from Jamie Pittman (165) and Ronald Halford (212) at tackles and Tracey Wilkinson (175) at guard.

If the Gamecock offense can avoid injuries and not turn the ball over in key situations, it could light-up the scoreboard like never before. Defense is a way of life with Gamecock football and this year will be no different, as talent returns in abundance from last year's outfit that recorded 4 shutouts.

The front wall appears solid, with Kenneth Nolan (180) and Tracey Wilkinson (175) at ends, flanked by tackles Scotty Lee (200) and Ronald Halford (212) and anchored by All-State prospect Greg Hagan (190) at noseguard. The linebacking job appears to be in good hands, with Kelley Tindol (190) and Dale Nolan (150) expected to provide leadership and experience. The defensive secondary will return two veterans in Keith Maddox (165), while newcomers Chuck Adkinson (150), Bobby Hornsby (145), Steffon Knox (130) and Dyke Burrows (150) will get a chance to see plenty of playing time.

The Gamecock defense seems to be solid in every spot except the secondary, so if the defensive backs grow-up quickly it could be another stingy bunch of Gamecocks on defense.

The fate of this season's New Brockton squad will be known in only a matter of weeks, as Florida, Arton, Goshen and Luverne will greet the Gamecocks in the opening 4 weeks. With a little luck, look for Brockton to be fighting for a playoff spot again in '83!
